

BTO Quarantined at the Keyboard Writing prompts

Imagine you live in a society in which eating in public is not done.

Why is that?

How does that affect society? Your life? The economy? Where you live?

Who are these people? What do they look like, what do they do, how old are they? What are their hobbies? If you looked around their living room, what would you see? Do they live in the US? In another country? Another planet? What is their most revered possession? Their secret little pleasure? Their biggest daydream?
